Management of volunteers

Volunteers will be given the contact details of their supervisor. This person will be the main point of contact for the volunteer regarding all aspects of the volunteering role, including emergencies. The supervisor will ensure that appropriate support and supervision are offered. Supervision is a mandatory requirement for some roles.

Training

Volunteers will be encouraged to develop their skills whilst serving as a volunteer for the charity. All volunteers must complete mandatory training as required by their role. It is the supervisor's responsibility to ensure training is up to date. The charity reserves the right to end a volunteer's involvement in the charity if the volunteer does not attend mandatory training.

Resignation and retirement from volunteering

Volunteers may resign or retire from volunteering for the charity at any time by advising their supervisor. Wherever possible the supervisor or other member of staff, such as CEO or Trustees will ask for feedback to ensure we can maintain or improve the quality of volunteering.

Supporting Positive Mental Health

Edited by: Odette Mould	Approved on: 12/04/2021
Approved by: The Board	Next Review Date: 12/04/2022

Volunteer Policy

Harry's Rainbow understands the positive impact that healthy and engaged volunteers make to the success of the charity. As such, Harry's Rainbow pledges to provide support for volunteers. We wish to create an open and honest environment and to ensure that necessary support is known and offered to volunteers when needed.

Harry's Rainbow understands the role it has in ensuring that health and safety legislation is adhered to. Harry's Rainbow undertakes to create a safe workplace where risks to mental health and wellbeing are limited as much as possible. Additionally, Harry's Rainbow will aim to discuss and make reasonable adjustments for disabled volunteers.

Health Safety & Hygiene

Harry's Rainbow is committed to ensuring the health, safety and welfare of all volunteers whilst volunteering for us. If volunteers become aware of any potential hazard or unsafe working conditions, they must report them to their supervisor immediately.

Volunteers are required to take all reasonable steps to safeguard their health and safety, and that of any other person who may be affected by their actions. All accidents must be reported to their Supervisor and ensure it is entered into the Accident Book. Some volunteers may be asked to undertake training in Health & Hygiene.

Smoking

It is Harry's Rainbow policy that all its venues are smoke-free and that volunteers have the right to volunteer in a smoke-free environment. Smoking, including the use of electronic cigarettes (e-cigarettes) or electronic nicotine delivery systems (ENDS), is therefore prohibited at any Harry's Rainbow event whilst undertaking a voluntary role.

Hygiene

Any exposed cut or burn must be covered with a first-aid dressing. If volunteers are suffering from an infectious or contagious disease or illness such as rubella, hepatitis, or Covid-19 they must not attend any event without clearance from their own G.P and in the case of pandemics always follow the current government / health organisation guidelines in place at the time of infection. Contact with any person suffering from an infectious or contagious disease must be reported before commencing the volunteering role. The examples given are not exhaustive.

Expenses

We value our volunteers and want to ensure that there are no barriers to volunteer involvement. All expenses must be approved by the appropriate supervisor. Expenses will only be reimbursed with receipts. We do not reimburse taxi costs. This is because we have a taxi account. If your only means of transport to support your role is by taxi, please contact your supervisor to seek approval. Please refer to the Business Expense Policy for all requirements, further information and the expense claim form.

Cash Handling

In some cases, volunteers may be asked to assist a member of staff in aspects of processing cheques and cash. In this instance the supervisor will provide a copy of our internal Financial Controls procedure for the volunteer to read and follow.

Insurance

Harry's Rainbow has valid Public Liability Insurance.

Children

It is Harry's Rainbows' policy to only allow children and young people to attend fundraising events (which are organised by Harry's Rainbow) with their Volunteer parent/guardian if they are aged 8 years or over and understand the role requirement. There are certain roles where we do not allow children or young people to help, these can include food preparation, cooking, meetings, and various other roles, so volunteers are asked seek approval first before bringing their children along. Risk assessments will be carried out on all events before we will allow children to take part – copies will be available on request. Where children and young people can attend and help at events, we ask that they follow the guidelines above and that questions are raised with the supervisor.

Social Media

Harry's Rainbow accepts that many volunteers use social networks, and that our beneficiaries are also using social media. Volunteers are encouraged to share ideas and engage in discussions on our internal social networks. It is useful to share information with fellow volunteers and members of staff on our social network as this makes content available to the entire charity, or individual groups where these have been set up, and encourages collaboration and discussion.

Volunteer Policy

Harassment or bullying causes stress, anxiety and unhappiness to individuals, creates an unpleasant environment in which to work and may be unlawful. This can reduce efficiency and may ultimately have an impact on the way in which services are delivered to our beneficiaries. For these reasons, it is important that as an employer, individual employees and volunteers we strive to achieve a working environment which is free from this type of behaviour.

Volunteers may be an individual or part of a group that receives the unwanted attention. The harassment, bullying or victimisation may be a one-off incident, or it may be a series of incidents. Our volunteer's dignity at work can be affected by inappropriate behaviour, which causes offence, whether it is intentional, or not.

Harry's Rainbow is committed to ensuring that individuals do not feel apprehensive because of their race, religion or belief, disability, sex, sexual orientation, pregnancy or maternity, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, age, or as a result of being subjected to any inappropriate behaviour.

All volunteers can expect to:

- be treated with dignity, respect and courtesy.
- be able to work, free from unfair treatment, bullying, harassment or victimisation.
- be valued for their skills, abilities and experiences.

All volunteers are expected to:

- familiarise themselves with the content of the Equality Inclusion and Diversity Policy
- treat all employees and volunteers with dignity, respect and courtesy.
- contribute towards a positive working culture.
- challenge or report unacceptable behaviour.
- be mindful of others when expressing views.
- cooperate with investigations into harassment and bullying.

Breaches of this policy will be considered unacceptable behaviour and would result in the supervisor following the Volunteer Performance and Serious Conduct Procedure held in this policy.

Definition of Harassment

Harassment is unwanted conduct, related to a relevant characteristic set out in the Equality Act 2010 that violates a person's dignity or creates an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them. The protected characteristics are race, religion or belief, disability, sex, sexual orientation, pregnancy or maternity, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, and age.

Harassment may take many forms. It can range from extreme forms such as violence to less obvious actions such as persistently ignoring someone. The following, though not an exhaustive list, may constitute harassment:

Volunteers may also be subject to harassment from third parties such as beneficiaries, suppliers, or the general public etc. where interaction with those third parties is a part of their role.

Definition of Bullying

Bullying is repeated inappropriate, offensive behaviour, which is often an abuse of power or position. It can be direct or indirect, either verbal, physical or otherwise, conducted by one or more persons against another whilst carrying out a paid or voluntary role, which could reasonably be regarded as undermining the individual's right to dignity at work.

The following examples may constitute bullying:

- threats, abuse, teasing, gossip, or practical jokes.

- imposing excessive workloads.
- making unjustified criticisms.
- excessive monitoring.
- removing responsibilities.
- allocating menial or pointless tasks.
- withholding information.
- refusing requests for leave, holiday, or training.

It should be noted that it is the impact of the behaviour which is relevant and not the motive or intent behind it.

Please report any incident of Bullying or Harassment to the CEO of Harry's Rainbow immediately.

Standards of Volunteering Service

The relationship between Harry's Rainbow and its volunteers is entirely voluntary and does not imply any contract. However, it is important that we can maintain our agreed standards of service to the beneficiaries and their families who use it, and it is also important that volunteers should enjoy making their contribution to this service.

- If your role as a volunteer does not meet the organisation's standards, it will be dealt with by: -
 - a) A meeting with the CEO (Chief Executive Officer) who will explain the concerns.
 - b) If this does not resolve the concern, then a meeting with the Chair of Trustees will be arranged.
 - c) If your work does not meet with our standards, or we are not able to reach an agreement you will be asked to cease volunteering with Harry's Rainbow
- At all times you will be able to freely state your case and can ask a friend to accompany you.

Volunteer Policy

If you are dissatisfied with any aspect of your volunteering, you should: -

- a) Request a meeting with the CEO to discuss your concerns.
- b) If this does not resolve the concern, then a meeting with the Chair of Trustees will be arranged.
- c) If after this, your dissatisfaction remains unsolved, and we are unable to resolve your concern then it would be inappropriate for you to continue to be a volunteer.
 - At all times you will be able to freely state your case and can have a friend accompany you.

Volunteer Performance and Conduct

If supervisors have concerns about a volunteer's performance or conduct either as a result of observation or as a result of complaints being received, they will arrange an informal meeting to discuss this with the volunteer at the earliest opportunity.

The purpose of the meeting is to:

- Gain a clear understanding of the situation and ascertain if there are concerns
- Address any concerns and consider any other related factors
- To agree an action plan to resolve the concerns.

Notes of the meeting would be taken and copies sent to the volunteer and held on the volunteer's file.

At this stage the charity reserves the right to release the volunteer from their role or to reassign them to another role, as appropriate.

Serious Misconduct

If a volunteer is suspected, alleged or proven to have committed serious misconduct (for example theft, an act of violence, abuse, harassment or bullying, malicious damage, deliberate falsification of documents, attending under the influence of alcohol or drugs, Harry's Rainbow reserves the right to move the volunteer to an alternative role or suspend volunteer from their role while the matter is being investigated.

Failure to comply with any aspect of this volunteer policy, guiding principles or related policies may result in following the volunteer performance and conduct process, depending on the circumstances.
